Horner, Corvallis; Miss Rose Parrott, Monmouth.

A group of society matrons motored to the Isaac Lee Patterson country home for a delightful luncheon for which Mrs. Patterson was hostess Tuesday.

Yellow daffodils and greens centered the table which covers for Mrs. Henry Meyers and her house guest Mrs. Frank M. Jordan, of Seattle; Mrs. J. V. Beach, of Portland; Mrs. Joan Minto and her guest Miss Agnes McLaughlin, of Portland.

Mrs. Thomas B. Kay and daughter, Miss Marjorie Kay, are week end guests in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moore were hosts Monday evening for a five hundred party including as their guests the members of the Merry-Go-Round club. George Washington decorations were arranged about the drawing and reception rooms, players circling seven tables of the game.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thielson were awarded the high score honors. Mrs. Robert Kinney and Miss Margaret Gray assisted Mrs. Moors in the serving.

Charming and informal, with spring blossoms, daffodils in vases and bowls arranged about the rooms, about a dozen of the younger matrons and maids enjoyed tea with Mrs. George Gray Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Agnes McLaughlin, of Portland, who has been the house guest of Mrs. John Minto, was the guest of honor. The prettily appointed table at which Mrs. Elmer Ludden presided was adorned with golden hued daffodils and pale yellow candles.

Miss Margaret Gray and Miss Veda Cross assisted Mrs. Gray in the serving. Calling to greet the visitor were: Mrs. Robert Kinney, Mrs. Elizabeth Lord, Misses Gertrude and Margaret Gray, Miss Margery Marvin, Miss Rita Steiner, Miss Aline Thompson, Paul Wallace, Ralph Moors, Carl Gabrielson and James Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush motored to Portland this afternoon and will remain over Sunday. Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Bush will attend the concert to be given at the Heilig theatre by Emma Destini, the famous prima donna of the Metropolitan Grand Opera company.

Tonight will be a gala evening for the younger contingent who will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lynon at a dancing party in honor of their son Allen's birthday. It will be a splendid party and the evening will be made unusually merry by the various fancy costumes worn by the guests including the following: Miss Barbara Steiner, Miss Helen Dechebach, Miss Mary Schultz, Miss Nanelle Bloom, Miss Evelyn Cathy, Miss Mildred Brank, Miss Florence Hofer, Miss Myrtle Albright, of Marquette, Miss Lucille McCally, John Carson, Homer Egan, Harry Miller, William Huggins, Clarence and Donald Byrd, Bert Ford, Kenneth Moors, Russell Brooks and Earl Flegel.

One of the prettiest luncheons of the week was that presided over by Mrs. Milton Meyers Thursday, her guests numbering about sixteen matrons including the luncheon club and several additional guests who were: Mrs. Charles Dick, Mrs. W. R. Jones and Miss Rita Steiner.

The attractive table suggested the approach of spring with golden hued daffodils. After luncheon the guests enjoyed an afternoon over the bridge table. The living room where the card tables were arranged was charming with fragrant pink and white carnations and pussy willows.

The attractive card favor fell to Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner.

One of the most interesting and delightful George Washington affairs of the week was the tea for which the Daughters of the American Revolution were hostesses at Mrs. Henry Meyers' attractive residence Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, state regent of the D. A. R., received with Mrs. Meyers about thirty-five matrons and maids called during the tea hour.

Vases and bowls of crimson and white carnations were arranged artistically about the drawing room.

In the dining room the tea table was exceptionally lovely, a color scheme of red, white and blue being developed by the use of fragrant red and white carnations in a handsome cut glass basket tied with a huge airy blue illusion bow.

The samovar was presided over by Mrs. Meyers' guest, Mrs. Frank M. Jordan, of Seattle, who is a D. A. R. of that city.

During the afternoon Mrs. Carlton Smith sang two charming solos, "The Little Prairie Maiden" and "Remember the Old Continental" from the opera "Little Nemo." Especially lovely was the last song, appropriate and radiating patriotism.

An announcement that caused a ripple of pleasurable surprise was the engagement of Miss Edna Josse and Clifford Edward Farmer. The news was made known Wednesday at a luncheon for which the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. L. U. Josse, was hostess. The affair was attended by a few of the bride-elect's close friends including: Mrs. Lloyd Farmer, Miss Hazel Erizon, Miss Zoe Stockton, Miss Hazel Downing, Miss Eugenia Belle, Miss Mary Eckerlin and Miss Nancy Shafte.

The artistically appointed table was all done in pink, an art basket of delicate carnations and greens centering it. The places were marked with corsage bouquets of violets and ferns, to which were tied tiny envelopes bearing the secret.

Mrs. Josse was assisted by Mrs. Louis Josse and Mrs. Armin Steiner. After luncheon bridge was played.

Miss Josse is an attractive and pretty girl with a charming manner that has endeared her to a host of friends. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. U. Josse, and a sister of Louis W. Josse.

Mr. Farmer is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Farmer, well known residents of Salem.

The young people will no doubt be charmingly feted before their wedding which will be in the early summer, although a definite date has not yet been set.

Delightful and especially attractive was the bridge party for which Mrs. and Mrs. Chalmers Bishop were hosts Tuesday evening.

It was truly a George Washington affair, the decorations and appointments being carried out in charming detail. Master Robert Bishop in a Colonial costume greeted the guests at the door.

Carnations in every shade of red from pale pink to deep crimson and beautiful fags made an effective foil for the eleven tables.

Carl honors were awarded to Mrs. B. E. Lee Steiner, Mrs. William Lytle, Asahel Bush and Dr. Thomas C. Smith, Jr.

Mrs. Alice H. Dodd in an oriental costume, afforded considerable merriment by her clever chicanery.

Mrs. Bishop was assisted by a group of the younger set and several of the maids wore bewitching Colonial costumes, powdered hair and beauty patches on their faces and shoulders.

Assisting were Mrs. Robt. Kinney, Miss Rita Steiner, Misses Gertrude and Margaret Gray, of Seattle; Miss Elizabeth Lord, Miss Margery Marvin, Miss Aline Thompson, Miss Ida Simmons, Ralph Moors, James Young and Carl Gabrielson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop's guests included: Dr. and Mrs. William Lytle, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer Putnam and their house guest Mrs. Jasper Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Livesley, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Smith, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Harry Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Zebie Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Plimpton, Mr. and Mrs. Joan McNary, Bishop, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Mrs. Sher- Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Pederic Thielson, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers and their guest Mrs. Frank Jordan, of Seattle; Mrs. Frederick Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wells, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hofer, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Miss Sherman W. Thompson, Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson, Mrs. Robert Kinney, of Astoria; Miss Margaret Cooper, Miss Elizabeth Lord, Misses Gertrude and Margaret Gray, Miss Margery Marvin, Miss Rita Steiner, Miss Aline Thompson, Paul Wallace, Ralph Moors, Carl Gabrielson and James Young.

Mrs. Robert Kinney, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moors for a fortnight, returned to Astoria Friday.

Mrs. Henry K. Merwin asked a coterie of matrons of the Oaks and Tuesday afternoon.

The dining room where the guests were served dairy refreshments was charming with patriotic decorations and a rare old painting of George Washington, an heirloom of the family, which once adorned the walls in President Van Buren's mansion at Kinderhook, New York. President Van Buren was a relative of Mr. Merwin's and the painting is highly treasured.

The prettily appointed tea table was adorned with red shaded candles and American ferns. Mrs. Herbert Stiff and Mrs. Andrew Johnson assisted the hostess. The guests were: Mrs. Henry Benson and daughter Miss Benson, Mrs. John Dubois, Mrs. Herbert Stiff, Mrs. Andrew Johnson, Mrs. Frank Chapman, Mrs. Henry Schott, Mrs. Edward Smith, Mrs. P. H. Holmes, Mrs. Leon Stockley, Mrs. W. W. Wood, Mrs. W. V. Johnson and her house guest Mrs. J. Young, of Woodlake, Nebraska; Mrs. W. E. Van- elson and Miss Lela Johnson.

Miss Mary Eckerlin entertained a coterie of guests Friday afternoon including the La Coudre Kensington club and Mrs. Stanley Morgan, Mrs. Lloyd Farmer and Mrs. Armin Steiner as additional.

Mrs. Louis Josse and Mrs. Paul Schmidt assisted Miss Eckerlin in the serving.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baker's residence was the setting for a party Friday evening for which the Bakers and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Millard were hosts.

Seven tables of lunch were arranged for the guests who included the members of the Cherry City Finch club. Circling the card tables were: Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Margaret Mason Writes of Gotham Fads and Fashions

(Written for the United Press.)
At odds with the whole world you surely will be
If you don't don the odd looking things that you see
Now offered as fashionable "dernier cri."

New York, Feb. 26.—The odds and ends of the imminent sartorial season are bound to make both ends meet by making both ends odd. Just which end will be odder were hard to say since, though some of the hats are the quintessence of quaintness, so too are some of the low down boots. Where a parson is the height of novelty a pair of stockings may sound the depths of originality. A striking hand bag in the hand is offset by a lot of ruff stuff in the neck. Of all the mad conceits of a mad hatter the chapeau that has a life size chaunticleer, comb wattle and all roosting all over the crown and completely overshadowing the tiny turban brim, is undoubtedly the true poultry of millinery. Another quaint hat is shaped like a broad brimmed sailor with an under brim of straw and the upper part, crown and all, composed of inch wide grosgrain ribbons running from the edge of the brim to the top of the crown in alternating tints of old blue, old rose, yellow, purple and ecru. In the centre of the crown these ribbons come together in a long tassel of their own fringed lengths. A pair of shoes that absolutely kicks over all traces of conformity is to be worn with an evening gown of violet net over an embroidered and spangled slip of green tulle. The shade of a tender young green shoot. The sensational boots are of violet kid with uppers of green taffeta ornately embroidered in sprays of spangled herbage. Stockings a mass of sequins up to the calf are odd stockings even if they do go in pairs. Another stocking that offers untold but not unwritten possibilities has your name, your favorite motto or pet expression embroidered in script on the instep. Why not have one's first name on the right stocking and the last name on the left? Think what a saving this would be of cards. One need only point her toes to be identified. Something new under the sun and ever the daughter of Eve is a parson of green edged in a vine artificial rambling roses and leaves. Another one of Chinese yellow drops tiny blue tassels from the tip of each rib and has a tiny necklace of blue beads around the tip of its ferule. For a belle of fashion comes a bell of a bag. It is of silk and is ruffled out in the shape of a bell with a tassel at the end for a clapper. Undoubtedly this was designed for the woman who insists on carrying her rings in her hand bag. Up to her ears in ruffs and choikers of pastel tinted batiste is the Spring maid and for her there is no escape from the cape of white or tinted batiste that starts as a collar and finishes down around the shoulders. It is called a nun collar and is unbecomingly to none.

be set aside as baby's day and all of the little ones whose mothers are members will receive mementos from the club.
Miss Constance Cantner, of Portland, a former Salem girl, will be present at the meeting and will give a demonstration of sight reading.
Miss Marguerite Flower whose simple charm and unaffectedness has made her a great favorite, will sing several solos.
Wednesday afternoon Mrs. T. K. Ford entertained the Birthday Club at Fair. The guests were in Colonial costumes and the afternoon's diversions were appropriate of George Washington.
The prettily appointed table was centered with a small tree adorned with cherries and the refreshments were in keeping with the sentiment of the occasion.
The guests were: Mrs. John Nood, Mrs. Eugene Eckerlin, Mrs. Paul March, Mrs. J. B. Nodon, Mrs. A. J. Davidson, Mrs. George Patterson, Mrs. C. C. Selteneier, Mrs. Frank Davey, Mrs. A. A. Mickel, Mrs. T. K. Ford.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner will be charming hosts Monday evening for a five hundred party asking as their guests the members of the "Nemo Card Club."
